4th November, 12th November, 13th November 2020

Scientific Director: Jean-Jacques Wyndaele

You are cordially invited to participate in the first online masterclass of the International Society for the study of Bladder Pain Syndrome. During 3 live sessions top level teachers will take delegates through the actual knowledge of this puzzling and devastating disease. By the end of the Masterclass delegates will have gained a clear image of when to suspect BPS/IC, how to properly diagnose it, including typologie, and the best existing ways for treatment. Social aspects, patient's perspective and psychological consequences will be discussed. Throughout the course there will be ample time to ask questions and advice. To evaluate your knowledge a list of questions multiple choice will be available. The correct answers will be given during the final session.

Best regards
